

VIRGINIANS SUCCESSFUL

Petition on Negro Question Settled in Committee in Their Favor.

A LARGE SUM IS RAISED

Richmond Ministers Make Splendid Speeches in Favor of Their Issue.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent.) NASHVILLE, TENN., May 11.—The clouds passed by, the rains ceased to fall, and invigorating breezes came down from the beautiful mountain slopes which overlook this favored city, and the Southern Baptist Convention never had a more charming day in which to transact its important business.

The convention assembled early, and by 9 o'clock devotional exercises had been concluded, and the body proceeded to business with an even larger attendance of delegates than on the opening day.

Notwithstanding the report of the Foreign Mission Board that all the troubles in Cuba had been settled, a feeble effort was made in the early hours of today's session to reopen them. A communication was read from certain members of the Gethsemane Church, in Havana, signed by the Rev. A. J. Diaz and others, praying that a new committee be appointed to reinvestigate the disagreements between the Diaz faction and the Home Mission Board, and that a committee from the Diaz faction be heard before the convention. The convention promptly refused to consider the communication. There were people in the body, however, who wanted to go into the Cuban wrangle again, and when the Diaz letter was set down upon a resolution was offered looking to the transfer of the Cuban work to the Foreign Mission Board, and the resolution was buried by reference to a committee. The balance of the morning was taken up with consideration of the report of the visiting committee to the Theological Seminary. The main features of the report were given in these dispatches in connection with the meeting of the board of trustees.

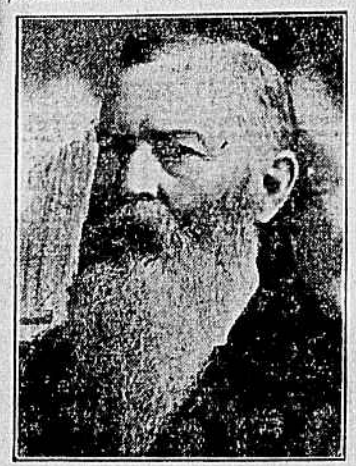

Large Sum Raised.

It had been arranged that a subscription collection for the Seminary's twentieth century fund should be taken up in connection with this report.

Dr. E. Y. Mullens, president of the institution, made a stirring address, and Dr. Hatcher, to his assistance, proceeded to take the collection. In starting it, Dr. Mullens announced two gifts of five thousand dollars each from D. Nelson Blake, of Massachusetts, and George Carroll, of Beaumont, Texas. He also announced that the students had pledged six thousand. The collection was then taken in hand by Dr. Hatcher, and amidst increasing enthusiasm forty-eight thousand dollars was raised. This was given in amounts from one thousand dollars down. Among the thousand dollar subscribers was George Witt, of Lynchburg.

Virginians Won Out.

The Virginia petition on the negro question and the home boards contrary policy did not get into the convention. It was settled in committee, and the Virginians claim that they won out. The Virginians and the North Carolinians, who had a similar petition, "poled their issues," and they went before the committee with vigor. Professor

REV. GEORGE A. LOFTON, D. D., LL. D. Of Nashville, Tenn.

Mitchell, Dr. Pitt, Dr. Hawthorne and Dr. Pickard, spoke for the Virginia petition, and they made great speeches. The committee was against them in the start, but finally got on compromising ground. Their report was a compromise measure. The report approves the action of the home board with the proviso that hereafter the board shall recognize negro Baptist organizations other than the national convention where such organizations exist.

The report then recommends the appointment of a commission of twelve white men to counsel with the home board as to the enlargement of the work among negroes. It authorizes the board to continue its work among negroes as begun, but not to enlarge it without the consent of the commission. In brief, the committee accepts the Virginia plan, but does not without stopping short of the work already commenced in good faith by the

GOLD SEAL
Has the Sparkling Bead and Aroma Possessed by No Other Wine.
America's Favorite
CHAMPAGNE
Special Dry-Brut
Surpassingly fine in bouquet and flavor and made by the French process from the choicest grapes grown in our vineyards, it equals any of the foreign products at one-half the price. Why pay a heavy import duty on labels?
URBANA WINE CO., Urbana, N. Y., Sole Maker.

Malaria and Chills Cured by To-ni-ta

Dr. Lorentz's Great Discovery, TO-NI-TA, Effectually Cured Mrs. L. C. Drake of Malaria, Chills and Stomach Troubles.

"For some time I had been troubled with malaria, indigestion and chills, and my condition was weak and all run down. While on a visit to New York a friend induced me to try TO-NI-TA, and it helped me so much from the start that I purchased a bottle and took as directed, and at the end of a few weeks was completely cured. I am now in the best of health and feel as if I never had been sick." Mrs. L. C. DRAKE, 31 Murray St., Oswego, N. Y., April 2, 1904.

Mrs. Drake's letter is like thousands of others received daily from men and women who have been relieved of misery and suffering, and restored to health by TO-NI-TA.

In cases of malarial and low fever, chills, dyspepsia and other stomach troubles, TO-NI-TA, Dr. Lorentz's Wonderful Tonic Bitters, is the only medicine that goes straight to the root of the disease and by cleansing the mucous membranes board, the Virginians and North Carolinians agreed to accept this compromise without discussion, and the looked for wrangle in the convention did not materialize.

TO-NI-TA, a tonic laxative, you need no pills or tablets. Beware of nostrums and patent medicines that constipate; they ruin the lining of the stomach and bowels. Ask your druggist for TO-NI-TA or, if he does not keep it, send direct. $1 a bottle.

Addresses for Home Missions.

A number of powerful addresses were made this afternoon on the work of home missions, and the enthusiasm became so great that the night session of the convention was converted into a kind of home mission mass-meeting.

Dr. B. D. Gray, the new secretary, was or lining of the body of all inflammation and poisonous germs quickly restores the system to a condition of health and strength.

It matters not how run down, weak or sick you may be, how much medicine you have taken without getting better, TO-NI-TA will cure. It is an invigorating tonic and laxative agent, guaranteed absolutely free from morphine, cocaine or other dangerous drugs. It is a scientific combination of the most precious and valuable roots and herbs and cures when all other remedies fail. TO-NI-TA is the only permanent cure for indigestion, all nervous and throat troubles, and catarrh, no matter what form it takes or in what part of the body it may appear. The first few doses will convince you it is just what you need.

"The Beautiful Story of Life," Dr. Lorentz's famous treatise, and medical advice free. Lorentz Medical Company, Flatiron Building, New York.

vised him, in order to save himself personal humiliation, not to appear in the Southern Baptist Convention, but to take the first train to Texas. He finally consented to take this good advice.

In an interview with the representatives of The Times-Dispatch, Dr. Cranfill explained that he acted only in self-defense; that Hayden had been persecuted and prosecuted him for years, and finally forced him to defend his person. The Doctor was asked how it happened that a preacher on his way to a great religious gathering happened to be in such a good state of self-defense by having a shooting wound in his hip pocket. He treated the reporter's interrogation with silent contempt.

Dr. Cranfill left for Texas on a train that left Nashville about daylight this morning. Dr. Hayden, after finding his engaged room at the Maxwell filled, went to the home of a Nashville friend. He went this morning to the convention hall and mingled with his friends, but did not ask for admission as a delegate, having been informed that he had better not. The members of the convention, as a general rule, and as far as they have had opportunity, have given both of the Texas fighters a decided cold shoulder. Dr. Burrows, the secretary of the convention, did not hesitate to say that he would not insult the Baptist denomination by calling their names as members of the convention.

Dr. Cranfill is a man of parts. He is a preacher of no little power, an editor of vigor and a promoter and business man of admirable ability, as evidenced by the fact that he has made a million dollars in the last few years out of the company for which he was manager. He is a Texan of whom natural Texans are liable to be proud as they escape the other morning. F. S. W.

MR. FLIPPEN MAKES A FINE RECORD

The inclement weather yesterday evening had the effect of keeping a number of shooters from the East End Club meet; however, just a dozen faced the target, and when the match was made up it was an enthusiastic one.

Mr. P. J. Flippen has his eyes on the "mud pig" and his score of 71 out of 75 is thought to be the record of the local shooters of this club. In the regular score of 50 targets, he was high gun, closely followed by Anderson with 46 and 45, respectively.

Mr. H. Brown, in the first event won the weekly medal by breaking 25 straight. This is the first straight on these grounds this season.

On next Saturday, the members of the East End Gun Club will visit the Albemarle Club and participate in their regular shoot.

There will be a team race at 50 targets between members of the several clubs. The line-up will be about as follows: Anderson's team—Anderson, Hammond, Flippen, Whitshire and Janowski. MacLelland's team—MacLelland, Dr. Hillman, Martin, Brown and Wilson. It will be a very interesting match, as both teams are about equally divided and the prize is something that every one craves.

Mr. E. H. Storr, the popular representative of the Boston Currier Company, returned to Baltimore Monday.

The following is the score, the chances being 50:

Flippen, P. J. 46
Anderson, J. 44
Fox 41
MacLelland 41
Brown, H. 41
Janowski 41
Clibb 41
Wilson 39
Robinson 38
"Parker" 37
Coleman 34
Evans 23

Extra-50 chances:
MacLelland 42
Coleman 38
"Clibb" 38
Anderson 41
Wilson 37

25 Chances:
Flippen, P. J. 24
Janowski 23
Evans 15

WENTZ JURY BESSIE IN STIRRED UP BOYS PANTS

Ask Father of Young Man if He Is Responsible for Certain Press Reports.

THE WILL A MYSTERY SHE JOLLIED THE POLICE

Has Not Been Probated, But Its Provisions Are Discussed, While Some Discredit It.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BIG STONE GAP, VA., May 11.—Owing to certain press dispatches credited to Dr. J. S. Wentz, alleging that the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest of E. L. Wentz, to the effect that he came to his death by accidental discharge of his own pistol, was rendered in order to shield the people of this section from the suspicion of murder, the jury held a meeting here late this evening and formulated a telegram to Dr. Wentz, inquiring if he was responsible for the newspaper stories.

The jurors are evidently very much displeased with the accusation made by Dr. Wentz, and will take such steps as are necessary to vindicate themselves.

WILL NOT PROBATED.

While those connected with the Wentz interests are reticent and do not deny or confirm the report that the late E. L. Wentz left a will, yet there seems to be no longer any reasonable ground for doubt that such is a fact. The will has not up to this time been probated, and its provisions cannot be definitely ascertained, but from the best information obtainable his new ten thousand dollar residence, which was left to the wife of his brother, D. B. Wentz, and his horses and some other personal property was left to his brother. The bulk of his estate, consisting of money, stocks and bonds, was left to Miss Cornelia Brookline, a young lady of St. Louis, Mo., to whom he was engaged.

A later version has it that the young lady is to receive only the income derived from the money and securities until her death or marriage, at which time it is to revert to his brother, D. B. Wentz.

The date of the will cannot be definitely ascertained, but is supposed to be July or August, 1903. The paper was found soon after the disappearance of young Wentz, but for some reason the fact of its discovery was kept secret, presumably because of the failure to find the body. The new residence was recently sold to parties here and the transfer made in the name of his father, attorney for him, which power his father is said to have possessed. All the personal correspondence of young Wentz, which is known to have been extensive, has not been found.

NOT CREDITED AT WISE.

The will, it is understood, does not affect any interest which E. L. Wentz may have had in the properties of the company for which he was manager, a special from Wise, Va., this evening says: "No will has been heard of at the clerk's office." The special discredits the idea that Wentz ever made a will. W. H. Eads, editor of the News, thinks Wentz never made a will.

At Alexandria the brakeman, who could not leave the train, turned the girl over to a kind-hearted stranger at one of the stops. He was taken to his home, and after being once more provided with a dress, she promised to wait until her parents could be notified and she could be taken home. She chose the first opportunity to slip away, and it was supposed that she came to Washington.

UNCLE'S SEARCH FOR GIRL.

Late yesterday afternoon her uncle, P. H. Early, a watchman at the station, came to this morning brought the aid of the police. All police stations were accordingly notified, and Mr. Early started to make a tour of the various missions in the city, where he thought the girl might have gained shelter. He found her at the Florence Crittenton Home, but she refused to accompany him, and Detective Muller was called into the case. He placed her under arrest as a fugitive from her parents and sent her to the House of Detention.

According to the story of the matron of the Florence Crittenton Home, Bessie Austin applied there for work early yesterday morning, saying that she was a circus rider with Barnum and Bailey, and that she had been left behind when the show left the city.

But Bessie Austin arrived at the House of Detention an effort was made to learn more about the girl, but her answers were not indicative of a crushed spirit.

WOULD RUN AWAY AGAIN.

She told the officers that she did not want to go back home, and if sent she would stay only long enough to run away again. She said she wanted to go on the stage, and if unsuccessful she was going to "hike" all over the world. She had a little hand watch with her, in which she had some prepared chalk, some clothing, and the hair which she had cut off. She was reticent about her journey, but declared that she had walked several miles to a station, had ridden on a passenger train quite a distance, and then had walked forty miles before she got to a freight train. Her purpose was to dodge any possible pursuers.

When the police found they could get no positive statement from her as to her parents, one of the officers said:

"Bessie, when the matron comes down stairs you can have a bath and you will have a clean nightgown and a comfortable bed in which to rest to-night."

"Bath," she said, "what do I want a bath for? I washed my face this morning."

Her entire manner was in keeping with that remark, and she seemed to be "jolly" the police.

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his glove. He was headed, McCoy landed on the wind with a left, but missed with his right a second later. They rushed to a clinch in McCoy's corner. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face, but the latter only smiled. O'Brien landed a hard left straight left and then they clinched. As they broke away, the going sounded. McCoy appeared to be fresher of the two men.

Round 4—They rushed together. Both men landed a left, and McCoy a left to the stomach and right to the jaw. O'Brien landed a left to the face. O'Brien landed hard left and rights to the face, and McCoy clinched. McCoy landed two hard lefts on O'Brien's wind and the Philadelphia lost some of his steam. O'Brien missed another left and McCoy landed his left full in the face. O'Brien was tired from his exertions. McCoy led with the left, but fell short, and the men rushed to a clinch as the going sounded. This was McCoy's round.

Round 5—McCoy missed a left and the men clinched. The Kid ducked a vicious left and the men clinched. The pace was slowing to a crawl. McCoy landed a left to McCoy's chin, and he received another one in the same place a moment later. The Kid was smiling. McCoy missed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien landed a light left on the head. They rushed to a clinch. They again clinched. O'Brien pushed a left to the chin. He landed a right to the wind a second later. They danced around the ring and were sparring as the going sounded.

Round 6—They fiddled a moment, and McCoy led with a left, but fell short. He tried a left and right again, but missed. O'Brien got a left to McCoy's stomach, and they clinched. McCoy missed a left for the face, but sent his left to the wind a second later. O'Brien shook McCoy with a left to the face. The Kid countered with a light to the stomach. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face. The Kid continually held on, and seemed to be in distress. O'Brien sent a left to the face. McCoy

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his glove. He was headed, McCoy landed on the wind with a left, but missed with his right a second later. They rushed to a clinch in McCoy's corner. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face, but the latter only smiled. O'Brien landed a hard left straight left and then they clinched. As they broke away, the going sounded. McCoy appeared to be fresher of the two men.

Round 4—They rushed together. Both men landed a left, and McCoy a left to the stomach and right to the jaw. O'Brien landed a left to the face. O'Brien landed hard left and rights to the face, and McCoy clinched. McCoy landed two hard lefts on O'Brien's wind and the Philadelphia lost some of his steam. O'Brien missed another left and McCoy landed his left full in the face. O'Brien was tired from his exertions. McCoy led with the left, but fell short, and the men rushed to a clinch as the going sounded. This was McCoy's round.

Round 5—McCoy missed a left and the men clinched. The Kid ducked a vicious left and the men clinched. The pace was slowing to a crawl. McCoy landed a left to McCoy's chin, and he received another one in the same place a moment later. The Kid was smiling. McCoy missed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien landed a light left on the head. They rushed to a clinch. They again clinched. O'Brien pushed a left to the chin. He landed a right to the wind a second later. They danced around the ring and were sparring as the going sounded.

Round 6—They fiddled a moment, and McCoy led with a left, but fell short. He tried a left and right again, but missed. O'Brien got a left to McCoy's stomach, and they clinched. McCoy missed a left for the face, but sent his left to the wind a second later. O'Brien shook McCoy with a left to the face. The Kid countered with a light to the stomach. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face. The Kid continually held on, and seemed to be in distress. O'Brien sent a left to the face. McCoy

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his glove. He was headed, McCoy landed on the wind with a left, but missed with his right a second later. They rushed to a clinch in McCoy's corner. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face, but the latter only smiled. O'Brien landed a hard left straight left and then they clinched. As they broke away, the going sounded. McCoy appeared to be fresher of the two men.

Round 4—They rushed together. Both men landed a left, and McCoy a left to the stomach and right to the jaw. O'Brien landed a left to the face. O'Brien landed hard left and rights to the face, and McCoy clinched. McCoy landed two hard lefts on O'Brien's wind and the Philadelphia lost some of his steam. O'Brien missed another left and McCoy landed his left full in the face. O'Brien was tired from his exertions. McCoy led with the left, but fell short, and the men rushed to a clinch as the going sounded. This was McCoy's round.

Round 5—McCoy missed a left and the men clinched. The Kid ducked a vicious left and the men clinched. The pace was slowing to a crawl. McCoy landed a left to McCoy's chin, and he received another one in the same place a moment later. The Kid was smiling. McCoy missed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien landed a light left on the head. They rushed to a clinch. They again clinched. O'Brien pushed a left to the chin. He landed a right to the wind a second later. They danced around the ring and were sparring as the going sounded.

Round 6—They fiddled a moment, and McCoy led with a left, but fell short. He tried a left and right again, but missed. O'Brien got a left to McCoy's stomach, and they clinched. McCoy missed a left for the face, but sent his left to the wind a second later. O'Brien shook McCoy with a left to the face. The Kid countered with a light to the stomach. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face. The Kid continually held on, and seemed to be in distress. O'Brien sent a left to the face. McCoy

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his glove. He was headed, McCoy landed on the wind with a left, but missed with his right a second later. They rushed to a clinch in McCoy's corner. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face, but the latter only smiled. O'Brien landed a hard left straight left and then they clinched. As they broke away, the going sounded. McCoy appeared to be fresher of the two men.

Round 4—They rushed together. Both men landed a left, and McCoy a left to the stomach and right to the jaw. O'Brien landed a left to the face. O'Brien landed hard left and rights to the face, and McCoy clinched. McCoy landed two hard lefts on O'Brien's wind and the Philadelphia lost some of his steam. O'Brien missed another left and McCoy landed his left full in the face. O'Brien was tired from his exertions. McCoy led with the left, but fell short, and the men rushed to a clinch as the going sounded. This was McCoy's round.

Round 5—McCoy missed a left and the men clinched. The Kid ducked a vicious left and the men clinched. The pace was slowing to a crawl. McCoy landed a left to McCoy's chin, and he received another one in the same place a moment later. The Kid was smiling. McCoy missed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien landed a light left on the head. They rushed to a clinch. They again clinched. O'Brien pushed a left to the chin. He landed a right to the wind a second later. They danced around the ring and were sparring as the going sounded.

Round 6—They fiddled a moment, and McCoy led with a left, but fell short. He tried a left and right again, but missed. O'Brien got a left to McCoy's stomach, and they clinched. McCoy missed a left for the face, but sent his left to the wind a second later. O'Brien shook McCoy with a left to the face. The Kid countered with a light to the stomach. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face. The Kid continually held on, and seemed to be in distress. O'Brien sent a left to the face. McCoy

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his glove. He was headed, McCoy landed on the wind with a left, but missed with his right a second later. They rushed to a clinch in McCoy's corner. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face, but the latter only smiled. O'Brien landed a hard left straight left and then they clinched. As they broke away, the going sounded. McCoy appeared to be fresher of the two men.

Round 4—They rushed together. Both men landed a left, and McCoy a left to the stomach and right to the jaw. O'Brien landed a left to the face. O'Brien landed hard left and rights to the face, and McCoy clinched. McCoy landed two hard lefts on O'Brien's wind and the Philadelphia lost some of his steam. O'Brien missed another left and McCoy landed his left full in the face. O'Brien was tired from his exertions. McCoy led with the left, but fell short, and the men rushed to a clinch as the going sounded. This was McCoy's round.

Round 5—McCoy missed a left and the men clinched. The Kid ducked a vicious left and the men clinched. The pace was slowing to a crawl. McCoy landed a left to McCoy's chin, and he received another one in the same place a moment later. The Kid was smiling. McCoy missed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien landed a light left on the head. They rushed to a clinch. They again clinched. O'Brien pushed a left to the chin. He landed a right to the wind a second later. They danced around the ring and were sparring as the going sounded.

Round 6—They fiddled a moment, and McCoy led with a left, but fell short. He tried a left and right again, but missed. O'Brien got a left to McCoy's stomach, and they clinched. McCoy missed a left for the face, but sent his left to the wind a second later. O'Brien shook McCoy with a left to the face. The Kid countered with a light to the stomach. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face. The Kid continually held on, and seemed to be in distress. O'Brien sent a left to the face. McCoy

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his glove. He was headed, McCoy landed on the wind with a left, but missed with his right a second later. They rushed to a clinch in McCoy's corner. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face, but the latter only smiled. O'Brien landed a hard left straight left and then they clinched. As they broke away, the going sounded. McCoy appeared to be fresher of the two men.

Round 4—They rushed together. Both men landed a left, and McCoy a left to the stomach and right to the jaw. O'Brien landed a left to the face. O'Brien landed hard left and rights to the face, and McCoy clinched. McCoy landed two hard lefts on O'Brien's wind and the Philadelphia lost some of his steam. O'Brien missed another left and McCoy landed his left full in the face. O'Brien was tired from his exertions. McCoy led with the left, but fell short, and the men rushed to a clinch as the going sounded. This was McCoy's round.

Round 5—McCoy missed a left and the men clinched. The Kid ducked a vicious left and the men clinched. The pace was slowing to a crawl. McCoy landed a left to McCoy's chin, and he received another one in the same place a moment later. The Kid was smiling. McCoy missed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien landed a light left on the head. They rushed to a clinch. They again clinched. O'Brien pushed a left to the chin. He landed a right to the wind a second later. They danced around the ring and were sparring as the going sounded.

Round 6—They fiddled a moment, and McCoy led with a left, but fell short. He tried a left and right again, but missed. O'Brien got a left to McCoy's stomach, and they clinched. McCoy missed a left for the face, but sent his left to the wind a second later. O'Brien shook McCoy with a left to the face. The Kid countered with a light to the stomach. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face. The Kid continually held on, and seemed to be in distress. O'Brien sent a left to the face. McCoy

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his glove. He was headed, McCoy landed on the wind with a left, but missed with his right a second later. They rushed to a clinch in McCoy's corner. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face, but the latter only smiled. O'Brien landed a hard left straight left and then they clinched. As they broke away, the going sounded. McCoy appeared to be fresher of the two men.

Round 4—They rushed together. Both men landed a left, and McCoy a left to the stomach and right to the jaw. O'Brien landed a left to the face. O'Brien landed hard left and rights to the face, and McCoy clinched. McCoy landed two hard lefts on O'Brien's wind and the Philadelphia lost some of his steam. O'Brien missed another left and McCoy landed his left full in the face. O'Brien was tired from his exertions. McCoy led with the left, but fell short, and the men rushed to a clinch as the going sounded. This was McCoy's round.

Round 5—McCoy missed a left and the men clinched. The Kid ducked a vicious left and the men clinched. The pace was slowing to a crawl. McCoy landed a left to McCoy's chin, and he received another one in the same place a moment later. The Kid was smiling. McCoy missed a right to the jaw, and O'Brien landed a light left on the head. They rushed to a clinch. They again clinched. O'Brien pushed a left to the chin. He landed a right to the wind a second later. They danced around the ring and were sparring as the going sounded.

Round 6—They fiddled a moment, and McCoy led with a left, but fell short. He tried a left and right again, but missed. O'Brien got a left to McCoy's stomach, and they clinched. McCoy missed a left for the face, but sent his left to the wind a second later. O'Brien shook McCoy with a left to the face. The Kid countered with a light to the stomach. O'Brien drove a hard left to the Kid's face. The Kid continually held on, and seemed to be in distress. O'Brien sent a left to the face. McCoy

NEITHER IS THE WINNER

(Continued From First Page.)

They rushed together and both landed a left. O'Brien landed a left to the Kid's head, and brought his right over to the jaw. McCoy landed a right on O'Brien's stomach as the men came together. They fiddled a minute and were clinched as the bell rang.

Round 3—McCoy tried a left, but missed, and O'Brien swung the right to the jaw as the men broke away. They clinched and McCoy forced O'Brien's head back with the heel of his